BAKERY: A RISING BUSINESS

BILLY SUMMERS AND HIS WIFE ELAINE SUMMERS are using their bakery to send pastries to customers around the world. They have shipped as far as Hawaii and Canada and to soldiers in Iraq. Their bakery is called "Slices of Heaven." Their bakery is located at 116 W. Lebanon Avenue, Elon, North Carolina. Their phone number is 336 - 338 - 2825. Elaine says they (6 employees) can bake 500 loaves a day. Their hours are Monday thru Friday from 9 am to 5 pm. She started in 1990 after she learned to make sour dough bread from scratch. Eight years later, she entered four of her breads in a contest at the Dixie Classic Fair. She won three first-place ribbons and one third-place ribbon. People started telling her that she needed to start selling her creations. In December of 2000, she sold her first loaves and they have been selling ever since. She started building her clientele at daylong festivals in Savannah, Georgia, parts of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and towns up and down the Eastern seaboard. Around Christmas season, they add a second shift. Their employees swell to a baker's dozen, 13. They sell alot thru their web site which is: www.slicesofheaven.com. Elaine said the nicest thing a customer has said to her was, "That's better than my grandma's bread." Congratulations, Billy and Elaine.
