SENSE AND NON-SENSE

Every day in every way our every word and every deed preaches some kind of a sermon.

No one will ever get to be head of his Department, Manager or President of his company working 8 hours a day — it's the extra 15-30 and 60 minutes or more that puts him there.

It isn't the size of the dog in the fight that counts — it's the size of the "fight" in the dog that wins!

The preacher was discussing perfection in his sermon. And in order to emphasize his point, he raised his voice and said, "Has anyone in this congregation ever heard of a perfect person?" and paused briefly. A little boney fellow who was sitting back in the rear of the church raised up and said, in a quiveriing voice, "Ye-Yes, I ha-have — it was my wife's first husband."

Remember — when you get a raise in salary, it is not necessarily for what you have already done — more than likely it is for what the Boss hopes that you will do.

The old maid said, "I ain't told my age since I was 20 years old — that was 40 years ago and I know good and well I ain't "gonna" tell it now."

Pull off your coat, roll up your sleeves, go to work — and more than likely you won't lose your shirt!

Just keep cool and plug away. Do the best you can each day. If you're patient, you will prevail. Work often wins where talents fail.
