Some newspaper reporters were interviewing a man who was celebrating his one hundredth birthday. "Tell us," they demanded, "what is the secret of your having lived to such a ripe old age?"

"Well," came the reply, "I suppose I have always been an out-of-doors man."

"And how did you come to be an out-of-doors man?" the reporters asked.

"When I was a young fellow," explained the man, "I got married, and I made up my mind that whenever my wife fussed at me I would just go out-doors."

If you think you are beaten you are,
If you think you dare not, you don't.
If you think you'd like to win, but think you can't,
It's almost a cinch you won't.
If you think you'll lose, you've lost,
For out in the world we find,
Success begins with a fellow's will,
It's all in the state of mind.
If you think you're outclassed, you are
You've got to think high to rise.
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can ever win a prize!
Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man,
But sooner or later the man who wins
Is the one who thinks he can.
